

RICHMOND HILL CENTRE FOR THE PERFORMING ARTS

season

1

Has it really been five years? It is hard to believe that the Richmond Hill Centre for the Performing Arts will celebrate five years as the premiere venue in York Region, this season. It was February 28, 2009 that the lights went on for the first time and they have rarely been dark since. Much has happened since that wonderful night. I believe our programming choices are stronger, because of your input and suggestions. I believe that Richmond Hill is proud to call this Centre its own and I believe, to a certain extent, we are just warming up.

On the following pages are the choices we have made in bringing to you, our valued patron, the 2013/2014 season. It is a season that reminisces a bit, yet it is a season that is fresh, original and unique. Music, plays, dance, and comedy are the driving forces and it is our hope that you will enjoy what we have to offer. I encourage you to continue your valued feedback about our season and presentations. Please feel free to contact me at (905) 787-8471 extension 222 or Michael.grit@richmondhill.ca.

As we look forward to the next five (and fifty) years, it also is important to look back. The past five years have been incredible and I want to thank you for your amazing support. Much has been done since February 28, 2009 and it was you who allowed it to happen. Happy Birthday Richmond Hill Centre for the Performing Arts and enjoy the show!
